Royal National Park Environmental Education Centre

Book Week 2013

Permaculture GARDENS, greening up the universe one plot at a time!

Theme: Read across the universe

The Royal National Park Environmental Education Centre is coordinating a book reading via video conference for Stage 2 and 3 students with sustainability author, Kellie Bollard.

Kellie Bollard will present her newly released text: Permaculture Gardens: Sow, Grow, Care, Share. During the book reading, Kellie will keep the students engaged through interaction and involvement.

Students will

- explore the process of permaculture
- take a virtual tour of a public school embracing permaculture.
- pose questions to an author about her published books and the writing process.
- participate in an interactive quiz with other schools

Be inspired. Join us for interactive fun, learning, and challenges during this video conference.

Register your class. Cost $50.00 per camera.
Maximum of 30 students per session
Limited to 4 schools per session.
